IMPORTANT NOTICE

You are being offered a lease without security of tenure. Do not commit yourself to the lease unless you have read this message carefully and have discussed it with a professional adviser.

Business tenants normally have security of tenure—the right to stay in their business premises when the lease ends.

If you commit yourself to the lease you will be giving up these important legal rights.

You will have no right to stay in the premises when the lease ends.

Unless the landlord chooses to offer you another lease, you will need to leave the premises.

You will be unable to claim compensation for the loss of your business premises, unless the lease specifically gives you this right.

If the landlord offers you another lease, you will have no right to ask the court to fix the rent.

It is therefore important to get professional advice—from a qualified surveyor, lawyer or accountant—before agreeing to give up these rights.

If you want to ensure that you can stay in the same business premises when the lease ends, you should consult your adviser about another form of lease that does not exclude the protection of the Landlord and Tenant Act 1954.

If you receive this notice at least 14 days before committing yourself to the lease, you will need to sign a simple declaration that you have received this notice and have accepted its consequences, before signing the lease.

But if you do not receive at least 14 days' notice, you will need to sign a "statutory" declaration. To do so, you will need to visit an independent solicitor (or someone else empowered to administer oaths).

Unless there is a special reason for committing yourself to the lease sooner, you may want to ask the landlord to let you have at least 14 days to consider whether you wish to give up your statutory rights. If you then decided to go ahead with the agreement to exclude the protection of the Landlord and Tenant Act 1954, you would only need to make a simple declaration, and so you would not need to make a separate visit to an independent solicitor.

Date: 4th February 2025

Full name: Agreement to exclude security of tenure - simple declaration by tenant.

I, JOHN GUGGIARI of Goxhill Bowling Green, Manor Lane, Goxhill, North Lincolnshire, DN19 7LB declare that -
